Congressional Union Declares War on Administration.

Roosevelt Endorsed in Doris Stevens's Keynote Speech.

Chicago, May 26.—Endorsing Theodore Roosevelt and labeling the Democratic party as "arch masters of procrastination," Miss Stevens, head of the national organization, department of the Congressional Union for woman suffrage, sounded the keynote of the suffrage union's plans in an address at Riverside.

"We are through waiting for results," said Miss Stevens, "and we intend to wage vigorous war on the Democratic party. If the Progressives and Republicans unite on Roosevelt for president, as I sincerely hope they will, his very name will become a club over the heads of the judiciary committee in congress which will force them to take favorable action on the Susan B. Anthony amendment. Roosevelt has declared for suffrage and the union stands by its friends."

HARD MAN TO GET

Hugh Larimer Spent Four Days After R. P. Prosser.

Was Wanted on Charge of Forging Check for $5.

It took Hugh Larimer, undersheriff, four days to get R. P. Prosser out of Oklahoma, and when he finally got him over into Kansas it was in spite of rather than with the assistance of the police officers of Oklahoma City. Prosser, charged with forgery, was placed behind the bars in the county jail early this morning and was arraigned in the court of Topeka just before noon. He pleaded not guilty and is trying to arrange for a $500 bond.

Prosser is charged with forging the name of J. H. McCredie to a check for $5.00 cashed in Topeka. He was located in Oklahoma City by James McGovern, city detective, and the case was then turned over to the sheriff's office. Before Larimer left for Oklahoma City he had a telegram saying Prosser was under arrest and would be held for him.

When he arrived the police told him Prosser had left the city jail in the custody of his attorney. Just fifteen minutes before Larimer came into sight. Inquiry developed the fact that Prosser had not been in jail at all. Several appointments were made for Larimer to meet Prosser but on each occasion an excuse was offered. Prosser was not at the given point.

The second day Larimer told the Oklahoma police he had a telegram instructing him to return home. He said he was going to the station and left the impression he was returning to Topeka. The next morning he was at police headquarters and Prosser was there also. There is a law in Oklahoma which prohibits peace officers of another state from taking a prisoner out of the Oklahoma county in which he is captured until after twenty-four hours.

Willington to Come Back. Larimer was afraid to start for Kansas with his prisoner so he took him out of Oklahoma City to a little town to hold him for twenty-four hours. Prosser, in the meantime, has fallen out with his attorney, and told Larimer he was willing to sign a waiver and come back at once.

While Prosser's attorney was in the court house securing a writ of habeas corpus Larimer had Prosser in an automobile putting miles between them and Oklahoma City.

Mrs. Prosser returned with her husband and they have an explanation to make for the $5 check. Prosser admitted today that he wrote all of the check in question except the signature of J. H. McCredie.

"McCredie formerly lived in Oklahoma City," said Prosser, "and owed Mrs. Prosser for room rent. We ran across him in Topeka and he asked to settle if he would pay five dollars. He tried to make out a check on the street and made such a bad job of it that I wrote the check and he signed it. I wrote everything except the signature. McCredie wrote that."

The signature several times on a piece of blank paper in order to compare it with the signature on the check. There is some similarity in the signatures but not enough to make it conclusive, officers say.

H. S. GRADS WANT JOBS

Topeka Business Men Already Are Receiving Applications.

Hundreds of Topeka business men today received letters from J. F. Kaho, vocational counselor of the high school, asking them to notify him whether they have any vacancies open to aspiring graduates.

According to Kaho the high school students qualify for the following varied branches of business: Clothing business, department store work, drug store, hardware, shop work, garage, apprentice work, farm and garden work, house work, clerical work, delivery service, office work, stenography and typewriting. "The graduates of the commercial course," Mr. Kaho declares, "are amply able to handle any ordinary stenographer's or bookkeeper's position. And judging from the way previous graduates have made good and the strengthening this year of the department, the graduates in shop work should be able to hold down positions in their field easily."

The work of vocational counselor is new in the high school and has proven a great success. "Mr. Kaho has procured hundreds of permanent positions and summer work for high school students," A. J. Stout, principal of the high school, said, "and the department is steadily growing. We hope one day to have our 'High School Employment Bureau' in so close touch with business conditions in the state and city that we will be able to supply those of our graduates that want positions immediately."

DRILLERS STOP WORK

Operations at Overbrook Temporarily Are Suspended.

Unusual excitement was manifested the first of the week at Overbrook when the drill which had been at work boring an oil well was moved and taken to Nebraska. It was thought the oil boom was off. But not so, according to Charles E. Gault. Those operating the drill were under contract work in Nebraska for a week or more, and it will be taken back to Overbrook immediately after the Nebraska job is completed.

Besides Mr. Gault and Mr. Nolan, the following Topeka people are directly interested in the drilling at Overbrook: Tom Doran, Harry Larimer and J. C. McClintock.

NOT ENOUGH BONDS

Paying Issue Subscriptions Now Amount to $290,000.

Not taking into consideration the returned bids of the two banks and the trust company Thursday, for a total of $320,000, the total subscription for the paying bonds received by the commissioner of finance to date totals $290,000.

This means that the issue is over subscribed and a glance at the long list of names led by Wasson reveals the fact that Topeka citizens, at all walks of life, are down for some of the bonds.

The largest private subscription received was for $10,000. There were three for $5,000. The majority are for from $500 to $1,000 each. The "baby bonds," or those of denomination of $100 each, have proven to be popular. Several have asked that a few of these be included in the lot they will receive.

One feature of the list is the large number of women who are listed to receive some of the bonds, this class outranking the men fully two to one.

SENIOR PLAY TONIGHT

H. S. Graduating Class Will Present "The Vanguard."

"The Vanguard," the anti-preparedness play to be given by the high school senior class, will be staged tonight in the high school auditorium.

For their final theatrical effort the seniors selected "The Vanguard" by Miss Frances Dana, talented High School senior, who will take the lead in "The Vanguard" tonight at the High School Auditorium.

Katrina Trask, a play which has sold to the extent of eleven editions and has been enthusiastically backed by the Drama League of America. By means of dramatic and yet not sensational scenes the moral of international peace and good will is preached. The play is a difficult one and once the choice of the play was made the cast was selected immediately and had the advantage of weeks of hard drilling for the performance. The play is coached by H. Margaret Holcomb, dramatic coach of the high school. The cast includes nearly thirty persons. The lead is taken by John Troxell, who takes the part of Philip, a virulent preparedist who seeks to win the love of Elsa and glory besides, by his deeds on the battlefield. However, the sudden scenes of the battlefield and the manifest bad effects of the war convert him to a pacifist. The part of Elsa is played by Miss Marian Dana, who has shown in previous productions, remarkable talent. The play is the most pretentious ever staged by a local high school and affords Topeka theater goers a chance to witness a play of national fame.

BARBERS HOLD REUNION

Plan to Bring All Nonunion Men Into the Organization.

The line of demarcation between union and nonunion barbers was at least temporarily erased, Thursday night, when seventy-five local non-union artists held a big reunion in the Royal Arcanum hall, 627 Kansas avenue. Harmony and co-operation developed at the meeting may become permanent, practically all of the non-union barbers attending the meeting having expressed their intention of joining the organization, it is said.

The meeting was one of a series that is being held in all parts of the country under direction of the international organization with a view of bringing nonunion barbers within the fold. June 26 has been designated application day and another "get together" meeting probably will be held here on that date.

"I should think a big, healthy man such as you would be too proud to beg," "I am, lady, I am. And when I approached you I said to myself, 'There is a sympathetic, high-minded woman, who will instantly hearken to an unfortunate man's request, and not humiliate him by forcing him to beg for the assistance he so sorely needs.'"

WITHIN 60 DAYS

Army Officer Hears U. S. Plans Intervention in Mexico.

Pershing Moves Posts to Protect Auto Truck Lines.

El Paso, Tex., May 26.—A high army official here has received word through private, but well informed, sources in Washington that the administration plans to intervene in Mexico within sixty days. The information is not consistent with the news emanating from Washington but unquestionably is authoritative.

Troops Hold Ground. Columbus, N. M., May 26.—Re-alignment of General Pershing's forces will not be affected by any parley between Mexican General Gabriel Gaviro and General Pershing. This was definitely stated here. General Gaviro may move his troops as he will, but American soldiers will continue on their own line of duty without material change, it was ascertained. General Pershing has full instructions from General Dugan as to what he may do in certain specified contingencies, but no scheme by which Mexican forces might unite or work with United States forces will make Pershing give ground which he has gained, aides stated.

Move Two Stations. Two American stations between here and Casas Grandes were moved directly east 15 miles Thursday, abandoning the old line of communications which went by Gibson's Line ranch to aid in protecting the new line of truck train travel to Colonia Dublan, immediately south from this point. The garrisons at Boca Grande and Esplanade marched east to Palomas and Ojo Federico, reinforcing the troops already there.

THAT UNLUCKY 13

Will Smith Steals a Baker's Dozen of Chickens and Is Caught.

Will Smith, a negro, is convinced that thirteen is an unlucky number.

He is in the city jail, held on a penitentiary charge, all because of thirteen chickens and at that, the thirteenth chicken died before he could sell it. Smith is charged with stealing chickens from Albert A. Miller of 1024 College avenue and with selling them to Ollie Smith, a chicken buyer in North Topeka. He was caught before he had an opportunity to cash the check he had received and even the fact that he hid the check in his shoe did not save him.

Miller missed six chickens early

This morning. He called up the police station and told of his loss. Just before he called, Ollie Smith, the chicken buyer, telephoned in that he had purchased some chickens early this morning from a strange negro.

The police told Miller and his wife to drive down and take a look at the chickens. Officer Tom Morgan started with them to North Topeka. While crossing the bridge they met a strange looking combination. A negro was pulling a boy's wagon and on the wagon was a big box.

"Turn around," said Morgan to the driver after they had passed the conveyance, "I want to look that negro over."

Smith, the negro, protested that he had just got the box over in North Topeka. Morgan reached over and plucked a feather out of a crack. He looked inside the box and there were more feathers. He slid the box off the wagon and there in the bottom of the wagon box was a dead chicken.

Smith was placed under arrest and sent to the station to be held. Miller and Morgan went on to North Topeka where Mrs. Miller not only identified six of her own chickens but six belonging to a neighbor. The chicken buyer stated he had given the negro a check for $8.50 for the chickens, made out to Will Stewart.

In the first search, at the station, the check was not found. Morgan was not satisfied and another search was made. The check was found in Smith's shoe.
